

Don't Forget the Kids ...

If children are invited to your wedding, you will want to enjoy their presence, not worry about what they're getting up to! You will also want the mums and dads to relax and have a fabulous time, so why not incorporate some kiddie-related entertainment...?

If you can squeeze an additional table into your reception room, make it available to the children and stock it with colouring pads, streamers, jigsaws, books, party horns, party hats, masks; anything that will keep them occupied and happy. Tell the parents that it will be available during the meal and get them to bring the child's favourite toys to add to the fun.

Create some fun bags for the kids, containing mini gifts, that they can use on the day and take away with them. Book a clown or children's entertainer to keep them occupied and happy during the meal and speeches. Hire a creche for the day to allow parents the opportunity to join in the fun.
